Do you want to see the world while completing credits that count toward your college degree?

The University of Florida International Center (UFIC) has study abroad programs in over 70 countries that give you the opportunity to do exactly that!

Study Abroad - Did You Know?

- Most financial aid that you receive at UF (e.g. Bright Futures, Florida Prepaid, etc.) can be used for study abroad.
- Study abroad on UF-Sponsored programs and programs through other Florida state institutions can be used to satisfy your summer residency requirement.
- You can take courses that count for your major, minor, or general education requirements while studying abroad.
- Study abroad programs are available in English and in foreign languages.
- There is a team of study abroad advisors who individually specialize in different world regions who can help you find the program that best fits you.

Study Abroad Scholarship Opportunities

- There are many study abroad scholarship opportunities through UFIC as well as through national organizations.

A bit about us

C.A.M.P. Gator is an ideal leadership program where students from the University of Florida serve as mentors to at-risk K-12 students. A comprehensive leadership curriculum is the hallmark of the program as it allows the K-12 students and collegiate leaders the opportunity to learn and grow together - succeeding today and preparing for tomorrow.

The leadership curriculum focuses on leadership, goal planning and public speaking skills. Guest speakers and interactive workshops fortify the curriculum and immerse mentors and mentees in personal growth - helping them socially, academically, athletically, and professionally.

The one-on-one leadership mentoring takes place weekly throughout the semester in local schools and on the UF campus. Campus visits are essential as it gives the at-risk K-12 students an introduction to college life and an understanding that higher education is attainable through hard work and a belief that one can succeed. C.A.M.P. Gator offers mentors from the University of Florida the opportunity to have a significant impact on the lives of children and the community in a program that stresses both excellence and dedication. The collegiate leaders help young students to make the vital connection between a commitment to excellence in sports/extra-curricular activities and excellence in academics. To support our program, C.A.M.P. Gator has established partnerships with Franklin Covey Education, the UF College of Health and Human Performance, the University Athletic Association, SWFL Workforce Development and PK Yonge Laboratory School.

The Program

- 3 Credit course from the College of Education
- UF students are selected by program interview/screening process and represent diverse backgrounds from a variety of academic and extra-curricular areas
- Integration of leadership training and one-to-one mentoring
- After completion of program, UF students have the opportunity to participate in CAMP Gator 2 - serving as lead mentors (training new mentors)
- Workshops, guest speakers, and campus outings augment leadership curriculum
