What people are saying about Gator Dining Meal Plans:

Student Testimonial:
“One of the best and most memorable experiences in my freshman year was eating at the dining halls. I met a lot of people and it definitely wouldn’t have happened if I didn’t have a meal plan. In a lot of ways, having the meal plan made up a big part of why my freshman year was my favorite.”
Severin Walstad, On-Campus Resident

Department of Housing and Residence Education:
“The Open-Access Meal Plan provides students flexibility, choice of expanded menu items, and access to dining facilities across campus. It encourages healthy lifestyle choices at a maximum value for our students – from dawn to dusk.”
Norb W. Dunkel, Associate Vice President and Director

2013
Studies of college students across the nation consistently show that students who eat and live on campus are more involved, have higher grade point averages and are more likely to graduate than students living at home or off campus.

The Open-Access Meal Plan is recommended for all resident students and is the most economical and flexible way to eat on campus! Choose from 7 day access (7 days a week) or 5 day access (Monday through Friday) - depending on whether or not you plan to go home on weekends. No need to count how many meals you’ve used or how many you have left.

Gator Dining’s Open-Access Meal Plans provide you with a VIP pass to UF’s residential dining centers – any time of day or night the facilities are open. It’s more than breakfast, lunch or dinner. You’ll make new friends over lattes or meet your study group in the evening for dessert. If you don’t have time to sit down and eat, you can always get your meal to go! Dining centers are great social hubs and provide an easy way to make new friends.

For added convenience, in addition to accessing meals at the Fresh Food Company and Gator Corner, you may also use your meal plan at Pollo Tropical, Burger King, Home Zone and Croutons in the Reitz Union, plus the Camellia Court Cafe in the Harn Museum of Art. Your average cost per access with the 5 Day Open-Access Meal Plan is $4.17 and with the 7 Day Open-Access Meal Plan, it is $4.17.
